Reading

This week's reading tip: When children find stories they love, it gives them the confidence and motivation to try more challenging books. "If we can raise children with an intrinsic love of reading, it leads to an indelible desire to learn," says the National Literacy Trust.

"Enjoyment of reading has a greater impact on a child's educational achievement than their parents' social-economic status"

Reminder:

Please ensure you have chosen your child's lunch, on the Parent Pay website, before they come to school.

Parents Evening

Please ensure you have booked a meeting with your class teacher on the School Cloud website:

Thecoppice.schoolcloud.co.uk

If you are having any difficulties with this please contact your class teacher via email.

Targets

The children will be bringing their targets home today (Friday). Please have a look at these with your child. Please have these with you for your Parents Evening appointment and your class teacher will discuss these with you.

Knowledge Organisers

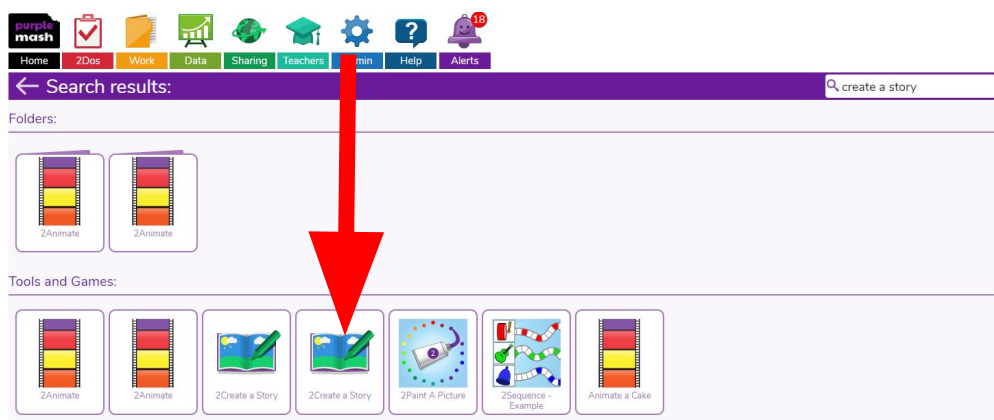

In recent weeks we have sent Knowledge Organisers for Geography and Science home. These are for you to keep at home (they do not have to come into school in reading folders). Please use them at home to assist your child in learning the vocabulary for each topic.

Purple Mash

In ICT lessons we have been creating ebooks, something the children are thoroughly enjoying!

To help your child with this they could practice, by making their own ebook on Purple Mash, at home.

If you log on to Purple Mash, search 'create a story' and click on the second icon. Once opened click on 'my simple story' and your child can create their own story. Again, if you have any questions about this, or need log in details, please contact your class teacher.
