

Brexit or not?

Since David Cameron has become prime minister of England, there has been much discussion over whether or not Britain should leave the E.U. This major decision may affect the lives of everyone in Britain especially if we make the wrong choice. For those who don't know the E.U is made up of 28 countries (UK, Croatia, Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Denmark, Ireland, Austria, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Belgium, Bulgaria, Finland, Malta, Germany, Sweden, Romania, Estonia, Hungary, Slovakia, Slovenia, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Cyprus and Czech Republic.)

One of the main reasons why Britain should stay in is because we benefit from other countries inside of the E.U. It is easy to travel, trade and work in these countries but if we leave this could become a large problem. If Britain ever go into a financial crisis or even a war, the E.U would help us and protect us.

On the other hand, leaving the E.U would make us a much more independant country. This would allow us to control our own borders therefore our country would save money instead of giving it away.

Other people argue if we leave we aren't certain what would happen because no country has ever left the E.U before, although many have tried to. In 2025 the E.U are planning on becoming on huge country with one national anthem, one flag, and one name. If this happens us as a country would become stronger.

However, some say that the United Kingdom spends too much money on the E.U in order to stay in. They say that if we left we would save more money. Furthermore, the E.U force us to follow many rules that some people do not like following. They say that some of these rules are not fair and could cause problems in the future if they are not changed or stopped.

In conclusion, we think that it is a very difficult decision to make. We hope this report has helped you to decide what you think the UK should do. Do you think we should vote in or vote out?
