

IN OR OUT THE EU

Since David Cameron was elected there has been much discussion over whether or not we should Brexit the EU. This discussion has been going on for a while and now it is finally time to decide if Britain should exit. This is an important debate due to the fact that that voting day is on the June 23 and also Britain's membership as almost ran out.

One reason why Britain should stay in the EU is that it will be easier to trade and live in other countries as well as also being able to work in other countries. On the other hand we could make our own rules and think more freely and personally. Additionally, to be in the EU we have to pay a lot of money because the EU is a club and to be in a club you have to pay some money.

Another reason to say in the EU is that immigration makes us a lot more money than we pay. Although even if we did leave the EU it wouldn't be that bad for trading reasons as we can still trade with the EU but it may cost more take longer and be more complicated to live or get a job in another country.

There are 28 countries in the EU such as Luxembourg, Germany, France, Greece, Spain, England and a lot lot more if you want to find out the other countries in the EU you can search on google 28 countries of the EU. The 5 countries that started the EU are Belgium, Germany, France, Italy and Luxembourg.

In conclusion, I believe that Britain should stay in the EU due to the fact that it will be easier to trade and communicate and go on holiday with other countries.
